Description

JARRAH is a late maturing, blue-green coloured broccoli with even, medium-sized bead for cool-warm season production. It has shown nil purpling and good uniformity of head quality and maturity in commercial plantings, with an average weight of approx. 480g. JARRAH is mid set in the frame for easy harvest, with tight and firm, high dome-shaped heads which are well tucked. JARRAH has shown good heat tolerance in plantings to date.
